DOGSCAPE

Triptych

I've rarely seen a wrecking yard without at least one dog guarding the rusty relics, and the places that make up 'DOGSCAPE' were no exception. So from left to right are, "Yard at Boree Creek", "Peak Hill Yard", and "Cooma Wrecking Yard".

Three individual paintings make up the rustic "Dogscape" scene. Each individual scene is recreated in a size of 600 x 490 in either a canvas or fine art paper edition. Each image can be purchased either individually or in the series of three that form the full "Dogscape" triptych, with an image size of 600 x 1.900 inclusive of a 50mm white canvas strip between each image.

Custom sizes available and wholesale customers welcome.
